Chicago Street Car Strike Again Seems Imminent, Since Union Men Refuse Compromise Terms

Propose Last Conference Late
This Afternoon, But Prospects Are for Tie-Up of All Surface Lines in City.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—After outright refusing all offers of the traction companies, the union officials are in conference. The presidents said they will meet them the last time at 3 this afternoon. It is the last chance, if all are not raised in pay, the most to thirty cents an hour, a strike will be proclaimed immediately of all men in the city.

Negotiations between representatives of the unions and the presidents of the traction companies in an effort to avert a strike were broken abruptly this noon. The unions refused point blank to accept the compromise wage scale offered last week, and followed by refusing to arbitrate their differences. The strike may now be said to be a certainty.

CURTISS WILL GO TO PARIS WHERE WILL BE DINED

Rhems, Aug. 30.—Having won three events, and a total of $7,600 prize money, Curtiss has gone to Paris to be the guest of Ambassador White at a dinner before returning to New York. He is flooded with invitations and probably will decline all. He probably will sell his "Gulliver Filter" as he has many flattering offers. Sunday he won the Prize de l'Aviation, going three laps in 22 minutes and 20 seconds, but was penalized one tenth his time. Latham won the prize for height, rising 308 feet; Farman was second and Paulhan third. Farman won the passenger contest, carrying two in 10:39, one in 9:52 4-5. Farman showed the most durable machine on the course, winning all endurance events. Nearly all aviators have left here, which has become famous in a week.

Wright Makes Flight.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—Orville Wright made the first fast flight yesterday in his plane. He flew fifteen miles over Templehof grounds. He will give a public exhibition Thursday.

Boy Drowns in Covington.

Covington, Ky., Aug. 30.—John F. Kremler, aged 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kremler, of 1518 St. Clair street, was drowned while swimming in the Licking river. He started for Sunday school in the morning and was not seen by his parents again until his body was brought home several hours later. Residents of the section where he met his death say he was drowned shortly after 1 o'clock.

ACCIDENT IN AIR.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—Zeppelin's a propeller new of cutting the gas bag and a catastrophe was averted by the compartment construction of the gas bag. The airship is now at Burleigh requiring on the return journey from Fredericksburg. The count was not aboard. The ship traveled only sixty miles when the accident happened. She was to exhibit to Emperor Franz Josef, of Austria, at Lindau tomorrow.

DEATH FOILED MOTHER THRICE

Bendwood, S. D., Aug. 30.—Mrs. Leon Henderson on a ranch near Sundance, Wyoming, left two children in the house, when she took her baby with her to a well to get water. When she reached the well she heard the other two in the house screaming. Leaving the baby she rushed indoors just in time to see a tremendous rattlesnake biting the two. While caring for them she heard the baby cry. She rushed to the well and found it had fallen in. She went down to the well and pulled out the baby dead. Then she rushed indoors and saw the other two die.

The Weather

Sunday was one of the most pleasant if not the most enjoyable day of the summer and the north wind brought a steady breeze, which was much relief to the sweltering population. The sun's heat was broken by a partially clouded sky and hundreds were out early in the afternoon for drives through the country. The river was speckled with motor boats and pleasure seekers were out in droves. Sales of cameras and kodak films indicate that many were out taking snap shots in both the city and rural districts.

The thermometer never went any higher than 87 degrees, which was registered by the government mercury. Late night was cool and wraps were comfortable in the evening. Bed coverings were comfortable during the night. This morning broke cool and bracing and the lowest temperature was marked at 65 degrees. The highest temperature for today was 86.

SLOW PROGRESS FOR BIG FIGHT

JEFFRIES AND JOHNSON ARE PUZZLING PROMOTORS.

Langford May Be Favorite Over Ketchell—Letter to Meet Johnson Next.

OTHER PRIZE RING NOTES

New York, Aug. 30.—Sam Berger does not seem to be making much progress in arranging the proposed Jeffries-Johnson fight. Samuel is on the Pacific coast now and is awaiting Jeffries' reply as to the different offers for a purse for the big fight, which have so far come in. The offer of Hugh McIntosh of $50,000 for the big scrapers to go to Australia is not likely to be accepted. Friends of Jeffries say that the big belliger would not consent to go to Australia even for a $100,000 purse, but one hundred thousand cold sovereigns is a lot of money, and Jeff might think twice before turning down such an offer. However, if the Australian promoter can see his way clear to offer that sum, it is not within the range of possibility that James Coffroth of Colma would go him one better.

There are only two states in the Union where a finish fight can be pulled off—California and Nevada. Should Coffroth be unable to raise a purse of such dimensions there is no doubt that the promoters of Ely, Goldfield, or some other of the wild and wooly Nevada mining camps can quickly raise such a sum.

Can't Locate Forfeit.

Did Jack Johnson deposit that $5,000 which it was reported a few weeks ago he did in Chicago, to cover the $5,000 deposited by Jeffries with a sporting editor of New York? That is the question fight fandom is asking, and no one so far has been able to answer. When the big black arrived on the coast was announced that his $5,000 was on deposit in New York. Diligent search has failed to reveal even five cents deposited by Johnson. Johnson several months ago deposited $5,000 to meet Ketchell with a sporting writer but withdrew that amount, and there is no record of Johnson ever having again deposited that money.

It is possible that Johnson has fooled the wily Berger and that Sam thought was good money, deposited at the time of their meeting in Chicago, had a string to it, and has already been taken down to pay some of the numerous fines incurred by Johnson in his arrests for speeding in his auto in different parts of this country and Canada.

Busy Times for Ketchell.

Stanley Ketchell, who has not left Frisco after all, says that he will come east in a day or two and will be ready to fight San Langford at the Fairmont A. C. on Sept. 17; also that he will insist upon catch weights. Ketchell declares that he needs but two weeks or so at Woodlawn to put himself on edge for Langford and predicts with unconcerned confidence that he will win decisively.

After the Michigan declares that he will hurry back to the coast, where he will have three weeks to prepare for the Johnson mill, Ketchell's dilatory tactics have not increased the confidence of the local sporting public and it is the prevailing opinion that if he actually gets into the ring, even on Sept. 17, Langford will rule the favorite.

Promoter is Puzzled.

Hugh D. McIntosh, the Australian fight promoter, has sailed for England. He came here for a solo purpose of making an offer of a $50,000 purse for the proposed Jeffries-Johnson bout. McIntosh stated that he had spent ten days vainly trying to find out where bids for the fight would be received, the date on which bids would close, the amount of the forfeit required from promoters and with whom the money should be posted.

He also declared that he had written a letter to Jeffries asking for the desired information and had authorized Steve T. Klug of this city, to make a bid and post a forfeit in his absence. It was evident that the Australian was puzzled by the attitude of Jeffries in not clinching a match with Johnson without so much time delay.

Prolific Pheasants.

It is reported that the whole of Vancouver Island is now well stocked with pheasants which have long been thoroughly acclimated and breed freely. The history of pheasant acclimation in Vancouver is simply itself. In 1883 C. W. R. Thompson, of Victoria, imported 200 birds from China, kept them in captivity till young had been hatched and set all at liberty as soon as the chicks were strong enough. In 1886 Mr. Murgave imported 1,000 more birds and turned them out, and from these 36 pheasants the whole of Vancouver and many of the adjacent islands have been stocked.—Bailey's Magazine.

EAGLES COULDN'T HIT M'CHESNEY

AND ELKS DEFEATED THEM 11 TO NOTHING.

Elks Played Almost Faultless Game
and Were Steady at All Times.

WALLERSTEINS TAKE A GAME.

The Brookport Eagles were unable to hit McChesney yesterday afternoon and thereby hangs the tale of a vic. decisive stooping, no doubt was the result of my kidney complaint. The team was a constant dull pain in the small August 31.

The Elks placed in steady, consistent game, and were never in danger of losing the contest. McChesney was in good form, and his big rainbows out proved especially tempting to the Illinois boys. Chief Lloyd was the star with the stick yesterday as his batting record was like a single hit. The veteran landed out a single,

two base and a triple, and the fans expected him to drive in a home run, but he had another turn at bat.

Steele, the Brookport catcher, induced his hand in the eighth inning and it was necessary for him to return to the bench. The game was almost over and set all at liberty as soon as the chicks were strong enough. In 1886 Mr. Murgave imported 1,000 more birds and turned them out, and from these 36 pheasants the whole of Vancouver and many of the adjacent islands have been stocked.—

Wallersteins Victorious.

By another hating rally in the ninth inning the Wallersteins defeated the crack La Center team yesterday afternoon by a score of 11 to 8. Until the ninth inning La Center boys had the score 5 to 7, but in the ninth the Paducah boys got busy with the clubs and swatted in a nest of four runs and won the game. The game opened the new baseball park at La Center, and it ended in defeat for La Center, the first of the season. Elliott twirled most of the game for Wallersteins, but in the seventh inning was struck on the left arm by a batted ball, and retired in favor of Baker, who finished the game. Ward pitched for La Center and did creditable work until the final round when he weakened, and coupled with bad support lost the game. Elliott and Carroll lined out a two bagger each, while F. Shaw and A. Stratton did the same trick for La Center.

The teams lined up: Wallersteins

H. Mercer, c; Elliott and Baker, p;

Herring, 1b; Carroll, 2b; Ford, 3b;

Eaker, ss; Beck, lf; Gallagher, cf;

Sanders, rf; La Center—Jones, c; Wand, p; F. Shaw, 1b; B. Shaw, 2b;

Wehli, 3b; Peart, ss; R. Stratton, lf;

Calvin, cf; A. Stratton, rf.

Wellies Lost.

In a slugging match yesterday morning the B. B. Hooks defeated the Wellies by a score of 9 to 7. Both teams hit the pitchers hard and the fielders had plenty of work. Councill pitched for the Hooks while Hanners was in the box for the Wellies.

MOST IMPORTANT GRIDIRON GAMES

PENNSYLVANIA WILL BE FIRST TO OPEN THE SEASON.

List of Battles Between the College Elephants Which Will Attract Attention.

IN THE EAST AND THE WEST

Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—With the coming of September comes a new expert to claim the attention of the college world. From now on football will divide with baseball the center of the stage until the arrival of winter snows. While the schedules of the big universities do not start for some three or four weeks yet every one of these institutions will begin the coming week either to practice or play for it.

The day of secret practice has gone, though there is just as much preliminary training now as ever. Yale has had most of her promising players at work singly or in groups throughout the summer. In fact, when the college year ended some 30 footballs were handed out to various players, with suggestions as to the kind of work they should do during the summer months. There was a time when such things were done secretly, but college men have outgrown such foolishness now.

What Yale has done nearly every big university in the east has done by one way or another. The competition for places on a big football team is so keen now that a man who expects to make it in the fall knows that he must keep in a condition of semi-training throughout his vacation. This is done in various ways. Some practice with footballs, others do manual labor and others act as life-guards. The chances of a player nowadays loafing throughout the summer and presenting himself for preliminary practice many pounds overweight or otherwise far out of condition are almost "nil," unless he is possessed of unusual ability in other ways.

In the east the college world is interested in the fortunes of six big universities. The ligation of Columbia from the football map and the rise of Dartmouth have made the "Big Six" once more intact. The other members of this sextet are still Harvard, Yale, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Cornell. There are other colleges in the east which cut a wide swath in intercollegiate football, but they are not of the same class as those already mentioned.

Although there is no intercollegiate association with a round robin schedule the chances for a determination of the intercollegiate championship are much better this year than last. Last year the honor of being first lay between Harvard and Pennsylvania, but as they did not play each other and met but one common opponent, the Indians, in preliminary games, the issue had to be fought out verbally. Last Cornell played Harvard last fall, as she will do this year, there would undoubtedly have been football.

That's the secret of the popularity of our Ice Creams, Sherbets and Fountain Drinks—the delicious taste of full, rich cream, served in such cleanly fashion that their very appearance is a temptation to the appetite.

Stop tonight when you are driving and try them for yourself. Our expert dispenser will serve you well.

GILBERT'S

Fourth and Broad Streets
"GET IT AT GILBERT'S"

On the Pacific coast American college Rugby is confined almost entirely to Oregon and Washington, with a few teams in the states adjoining them on the east. The elimination of the game at Leeland Stanford and the University of California has almost killed Rugby football in this coast state. Its place has been taken by association football and English Rugby. And what the big universities of the state do the schools are sure to follow. The result has been to make the college game unpopular in the state.

In the east the University of Pennsylvania is the first of the big teams to get under way, the Quakers opening their season with a game against Gettysburg September 25. The Quakers are obliged to start earlier than usual because they have the heaviest schedule of any of the eastern teams.

What look to be the championship games of the east are on November 6, when Cornell plays Harvard and Princeton meets Dartmouth; November 13, when Yale plays Princeton and Pennsylvania tackles Michigan; November 20, when Harvard plays Yale, and November 25, when Pennsylvania and Cornell meet. The following schedule shows in condensed form the games to be played by the colleges of the "Big Six" and the "Big Nine."

September 25—East: Pennsylvania vs. Gettysburg.

September 29—East: Dartmouth vs. Massachussets State; Harvard vs. Bates.

September 30—East: Yale vs. Wesleyan.

October 2—East: Harvard vs. Bowdoin; Cornell vs. Rensselaer; Dartmouth vs. Virginia; Pennsylvania vs. Dickinson; Yale vs. Syracuse; Princeton vs. Stevens, west; Illinois vs. Milliken; Minnesota vs. Iowa.

October 6—East: Princeton vs. Villanova; Yale vs. Holy Cross.

October 9—East: Cornell vs. Oberlin; Dartmouth vs. Bowdoin; Princeton vs. Fordham; Pennsylvania vs. West Virginia; Harvard vs. Williams; Yale vs. Springfield, west; Chicago vs. Indiana; Minnesota vs. S. V. S.; Illinois vs. Kentucky; Wisconsin vs. Lawrence; Purdue vs. Northwestern; Michigan vs. Case.

PRESIDENT HARAHAN SAYS COMPANY IN GOOD SHAPE.

Will Not Have Car Shortage This Year As in Former Years—Number of Changes.

Hyannis, Mass., Aug. 30.—J. T. Harahan, president of the Illinois Central, who was here today, said that the Illinois Central is not contemplating the extension of its mileage during the coming year. "If the Harriman railroads are extending into the new regions, this will not reduce the general freight rates," said Mr. Harahan. "Any new railroads Mr. Harriman will build will only have a tendency to reduce the cost of landing in the grain markets the crops of those farmers reached by the new lines. The general freight rates are now at a low level."

"The Illinois Central does not contemplate constructing any new branches or adding to its trackage during the coming year. We have a well developed system at present, better than ever before. In moving the crops this fall we will be able to eliminate that congestion which troubles railroads at this season and has troubled us in the past."

General Manager Harahan, of the Illinois Central, announced yesterday that G. H. Groce is appointed assistant to the general manager, with headquarters at Chicago. He will perform such duties as may be assigned to him. Effective September 1. The announcement likewise applies to the Ynza and Mississippi Valley and the Indianapolis Southern. The positions of superintendents of telegraph are abolished. F. T. Wilbur is appointed superintendent of telegraph of lines north of the Ohio river, with headquarters at Chicago. B. Weeks is appointed superintendent of telegraph of lines south of the Ohio river, with headquarters at Memphis, Tenn. Charles J. Bour is appointed superintendent of station advertising with offices at Chicago. He will have jurisdiction over all stations and right of way advertising and vending machines and will report to the president.

Daily Thought.

Oh, well for him whose will is strong;
He suffers, but he will not suffer long;
He suffers, but he cannot suffer wrong.
—Tennyson.

Not so much strength to resist temptation, but more commonsense to avoid it, should be your prayers.

Oysters come in to fashion, school begins, the summer hotel landlord counts up the summer's profits and profits warm up next month.

If those airships continue increasing their speed and develop a capacity for carrying the mail, picture post cards may take the place of the greatly reduced code telegraph cipher in the business world.

E. H. Harriman, whose doctors prescribed absolute freedom from interrupted rest, may begin to understand that the stock market is more important than his own health. The effect of his physical condition on the stock market is the proof of his greatness; but it may be the death of him.

DOCTORING THE TRUSTS.

Those papers, who talked so bitterly about the inordinate greed of the rich and the deprivations of great corporations, when the supreme court turned down Cleveland's income tax law, are having a hard time now getting right on Taft's corporate income tax, and the amendment to the federal constitution, authorizing a federal income tax, although the national platforms of both political parties favored the federal income tax.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, which has long been independent and anything but the organ of what the French would call the proletariat, sounds the slogan for all men. It denounces the federal inspection of corporation books as a flagrant governmental interference with private business, and the income tax amendment to the federal constitution as a violation of personal liberty and espionage of the Russian sort.

That is all right for the Enquirer, which is doing nothing inconsistent in assuming such an attitude. Always an advocate of the ancient Democratic idea of a loosed federal rein and the right of every man to do as he pleases, so long as he does not interfere with any other man's similar right, it has never rallied against the aggressions of the rich or the abuses of corporate powers.

But those papers, which have become hysterical over such national peril, cannot well adopt the Enquirer's view of the situation. They cannot propose a remedy for the trust, which does not presuppose a thorough understanding of the organic structure of the trust, its nature and methods, any more than a doctor could prescribe a cure without first taking the patient's pulse and temperature, sounding his organs and inquiring into his temperament, exposure and environments. The corporation income tax gives federal access to the books. That is the means of ascertaining the physical condition of the trust. There is no other method of procedure, but it is against this procedure that the Enquirer inveighs with some degree of logic, we must admit, were the purpose less justified by public policy and the extent of the inquisition as serious as the Enquirer's tone would lend us to believe.

We have no fear that federal inspection of the books will set a precedent, which will lead to surveillance and espionage over every man's private business; but for the very good reason that we are all in business and the government is but a reflection of ourselves, however much we may dislike the image we sometimes see in high places.

The trusts and the abuse of corporate powers, are but developments, natural and logical, of the decentralized government and the competitive system of doing business. The only remedy lies in a centralized government. Those, who cry out against the outrages of the system, must cease harping on state rights and scattered authority. It is among those disintegrated elements of scattered authority that trusts have been dodging and skulking these many years, and so long as authority is scattered they will continue to evade justice. These men behind the trusts are but men like us, after all; and if we would have them give up any measure of their personal liberty to do as they please, we must surrender in a corresponding degree the same measure of our personal liberty.

The Enquirer is logical in its position; but the Enquirer has no complaint against the trusts. It is expected, however, that its logic will appeal to others, who do not agree with the Enquirer's complaisant theories of business and politics. There is the danger.

SOME STORIES
AROUND TOWN

Pat Ross, a well known farmer of the county, tried the inevitable making a railroader talk, several days ago, but he met with the same misfortune that scores of others have found, and now has to dodge his friends in fear of their jests. Ross was struck the idea that he knew how to make the engineers who are running surveys around Paducah, talk and open up their bosom secrets to him. He has a reputation of being a half fellow, and can tell a story and spin a yarn in first-class style.

Early one morning this week he went to the camp of the engineers, and soon with his stream of gab made friends with the engineers, who were jolly fellows, and proved royal entertainers. Pat thought he was progressing lovely, and at the psychological moment sprang the question as to where they were going to run the railroad, and everything about it.

One member of the party answered, "Well, my friend, you have made yourself so agreeable that I am going to take you into my confidence and reveal our plans. We are sent here to make surveys for a branch of the Panama canals."

Since then Pat Ross has not been seen around the railroad camp.

The Rev. G. W. Briggs, one time pastor of the Broadway Methodist church, and the finest orator in the Southern Methodist church, is in the city for a few days. He is again on the lecture platform and is awaiting his manager. He is remembered by many Paducahans, besides the members of his church, as a delightful conversationalist, a gentleman of courtly manners and a silver-tongued orator.

Mr. F. P. Toof, manager of the Columbus Manufacturing company, has returned from New England, where he contracted for some mill supplies, including novel machinery for making seine cord, a hard twisted goods, of which the plant will have an additional output of 150,000 pounds. The machinery will be delivered in November, according to contract. Only one concern in the United States now makes seine cord.

"I found New England busy and optimistic," said Mr. Toof. "I visited a number of manufacturing centers and found all the factories, both textile and machine, running to their full capacity and millions being spent in additions. Apparently those people believe the future demands exceed their capacity to supply and they are taking advantage of an easy money market. They talk in millions about their improvements. I saw several factories that are erecting additions, the equipment of which means an outlay of from two to four millions. One five-story addition will have sixteen acres of floor space, all to be occupied with machinery.

"It is encouraging and inspiring to visit those busy manufacturing centers. No dread of a financial lapse seems to haunt either the manufacturers or the Boston and New York financiers, who are furnishing the ready capital. Neither are there any indications of a speculative tendency in legitimate industry. The lesson of the recent flurry seems to have been learned.

Eastern men are looking for the money market to tighten soon. Railroads that were paying big interest on short time loans are refunding their debts for as long time as possible.

The convention will open Monday, September 20, and will last five days closing Friday, September 24. It will be attended by about 2,000 church workers from all over the state and already preparations are being made to receive and entertain the many visitors.

Centenary celebrations do not occur during the lives of everybody and for this reason those church workers who have this great convention in charge are planning to make it great celebration. Prominent speak-

NEW GOVERNOR'S MANSION SITE

REALTY COMPANY OFFERS FREE SITE TO COMMISSION.

Beautiful Location Overlooking Picturesque Kentucky River Chosen

AND THIS MAY BE ACCEPTED

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 30. (Special)—The question of where the governor's mansion is to be located will likely be settled within the next ten or fifteen days by the capitol commission, for Tom E. Bowman and D. Blane Shaw of the Bowman Realty company, which will sell the capitol heights property that surrounds the new capitol announce that they will offer to the commission its choice of any lot in the capitol heights property for the location of the governor's mansion. There is no doubt that the commission will accept this generous offer on the part of the real estate men, and the owners of the property who are W. W. Longnoor, or the Kentucky Historical Society, Morgan Chinn, former clerk of the court of appeals, D. S. Smith, a rising young businessman of this city, and Eugene Wallace one of Frankfort's capitalists.

The convention embraces three organizations of the Christian church each having its own special day with its own program. The convention begins Monday evening, September 20, with a splendid song service led by that prince of leaders, E. O. Everett. Mr. Hensley, a graduate of Transylvania, and a missionary to Africa for several years, will speak. Roger Clark, pastor of the Christian church Maysville, Ky., will give the convention sermon. At the close of the evening sessions a half hour will be spent in a social time, friend greeting friend.

C. W. H. M. Sessions.

Tuesday morning, September 21, the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Kentucky Christian Woman's Board of Missions will begin its sessions at 8:45 a.m. An early hour but the day is so full of good things that no time can be lost.

All sessions will be held in the Auditorium.

The Kentucky Centennial Work of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions has been directed to other fields.

When the American flag was lifted over the little island of Porto Rico, with its ignorant superstitions, priest-riden Spanish slaves, the board was invited to open Protestant orphanage in the city of Bayamon, just across the way from San Juan. From this opening the work has grown until now two orphanages, one for boys and one for girls, and evangelistic work is being conducted. The need of homes of worship was paramount. Kentucky chose to use $10,000 in better equipment and a beautiful chapel, the first of all the centennial buildings to be erected was built by Kentucky and dedicated to the region with an open Bible in March 1908. Miss Sally V. Ashbrook, of Cincinnati, centennial secretary for Kentucky and the state secretary attended the dedicatory services. The Oriental work in Portland, Oregon will receive the remaining $5,000 of Kentucky centennial offering.

Worth Picking Up.
Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 30.—A trip to the Olympic games in Sweden with all expenses paid is the prize that will be given the winner of an amateur Marathon to be held here on September 11. Many prominent long distance runners are reported to have expressed their intention of competing.

The members of the company have talked to some of the members of the commission about the location of the new mansion. It is agreed that the most delightful and beautiful site for it is on the bluff overlooking the capitol, so that the front yard of the mansion will be the capitol lawn. The view from the bluff is the most picturesque in the city.

There is no difficulty in seeing four or five miles up the Kentucky river, and nearly that distance down the river. The entire city would be overlooked from the front porch of the mansion, and the country on the east side of the river could be seen for miles, so that no more beautiful a place could be selected than on the bluff overlooking the new capitol.

There is another advantage in selecting a site in the new sub-division, for no matter how many years the mansion may be permitted to weather the storms of winter and summer the view will always be just as beautiful and unobstructed.

Experiencing the dearest of all teachers, has taught the builders of mansions in Kentucky that progress is an irrespector of persons, and things, and that little regard is given the governor's mansion when railroads must be built and warehouses must be erected along railroads. There is not an hour of the 24 that it is pleasant to sit on the front porch of the present governor's mansion. There was a time however when the view from the front porch of the governor's mansion was the most beautiful around all Frankfort. The mansion was so erected that the governors of this commonwealth and their families could sit on the front porch and look up through a long valley to "Buffalo Trace," the pass through which the herds of Buffalo would come in making their way from the Blue Grass pastures of central Kentucky to the plains of Ohio and Indiana. The view also extended to the famous Cave Spring reservoir, the first reservoir west of the Allegheny mountains. There was nothing to obstruct the view then, but it was not many years until the walls of the penitentiary had to be extended, and they partially shut off the view. Later still it became necessary to construct a railroad from Frankfort to Georgetown, and it was built along the hillside in front of the mansion, and with the railroad came the freight depot, the roundhouse, the railroad yard, the warehouses and factories, the undesirable tenement houses, and the like and that, until now the present governor's mansion is hemmed in by such buildings until the smoke from the engines, the dust from the roads of the freight depot, and the stench from the undesirables make the life of the first lady in Kentucky everything but pleasant. There has sprung up by the side of the present mansion, too, what is known as government's alley, which is inhabited by negroes and undesirable whites, but the worst feature of all is the dust, dirt, the stench, and the undesirable business buildings. AFTER SUFFERING ONE YEAR

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pain in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble. They advised an operation. Lydia E.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA IMSE, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Now-days when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortland St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by W. J. Gilbert.

Outside Conditions Affecting Market Remain Satisfactory to All People.

HENRY CLEWS' WEEKLY LETTER

New York, Aug. 30. (Special)— A marked change has taken place in the speculative sentiment. This was brought about by the disappointing condition of Mr. Harriman's health after a trip abroad, the special purpose of which was its restoration.
The reaction began in Union Pacific and quickly extended to the remainder of the market. Stocks which suffered most were those that previously led the advance. It was evident that the market was ripe for a reaction, and this fact had as much to do with the decline as Mr. Harriman's health, concerning which there was really nothing new to the well-informed.
Nevertheless, the importance of Mr.
Harriman as a factor in the stock market cannot be disputed. For a long time he has been the dominating element in the speculative arena, but his operations in this field of the telegraph companies affecting the market have been now undoubtedly closed, and it is in this quarter that his withdrawal has been postponed until December 1.
This will be received with pleasure by business interests of Paducah.

Moose and Engine Test Strength.

Though it is close season for hunting, the 11:15 express was not responsible for breaking the laws.
About one mile out of McAdam a fine cow moose contested its strength with the engine, resulting in the noble beast's death. As it did not fall from the tender the train was stopped and the beautiful but much damaged carcass was lifted off the line to be cleaned later on by the same warden. It is supposed that the flies drove the animals out into the open.—St. John Sun.

STORM AT JOPPA REDUCED CROWD

BUT MANY EXCURSIONISTS ARRIVED IN PADUCAH.

Sunday Crowds Come in by Steamboat and Enjoy Sights of the City.

THOUSANDS WERE EXPECTED

A storm in the vicinity of Joppaton, Ill., yesterday morning held back many excursionists and the number who came to Paducah by steamboat yesterday was not as large as expected. However, the crowd was estimated at 1,000 or more. They arrived at Joppaton, Ill., over the C. & E. I. railroad, making connections there with the steamers Dick Fowler, Bettie Owen and George Cowling and arriving in Paducah about noon.

The streets were filled all afternoon and many flocked to Wallace park and other cool spots. The boats returned at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Officials of the C. & E. I. railroad at Joppaton, Ill., have announced that a similar excursion will be given in all probabilities in about three weeks. It is believed that the number of people would have exceeded 2,000 if the storm had not kept many at home.

Sunday merchants enjoyed good trade yesterday afternoon as well as livery stable owners. There were many strange faces and numbers who had never before paid Paducah a visit. From the indications and expressions everyone was delighted with the trip.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. Shoemaker, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. The interment was at the church cemetery. SOME FISHERMEN'S LUCK.

Several instances are reported of late where fish which have broken away have been rehooked and caught, one being a trout which had the old fly and cast in its mouth.

The other day a sea angler at Newhaven hooked the same conger three times, and twice had his tackle carried away. On safely landing the conger he found the hook and part of one of his broken lines attached to its tongue.

Quite a number of swallows have this season been unintentionally caught by anglers on the fly with worms, the result of the birds darting at the lures and hooking themselves, and one evening while an angler was after coine trout his rod came in contact with a large bat while he was making a cast, bringing the creature to the ground and killing it.

And another unusual angling experience is reported from the Huntingdonshire Ouse. Omitting to bring his plumbmet, a St. Ives angler requisitioned a bicycle trouser clip, and while he was plumbmeting the depth a pike seized it and was hooked and safely landed.—London Globe.

Artistic Bath Rooms.

A well-to-do man whose new residence was recently completed hit upon a novel plan for decorating the bath rooms. In one of them, the floors and walls represent the bottom of the ocean. Marine plants and fishes are painted on a dark green background. In the other both room are the man and his family. The work was executed by a well known artist and the likenesses are good.—New York Sun.

FELL INTO A CHIMNEY Fellow-Workmen See Rigger Lose His Balance.

New York, Aug. 20.—Half a dozen fellow-workmen, on the top of a 215-foot chimney being erected for the new power house of the New York Central railroad at One Hundred and Forty-fourth street and the East river, the Bronx, were horrified to see Peter Hogan, a rigger, 35 years old, suddenly lose his balance and fall backward into the chimney. Their cries attracted the attention of workmen on the ground, and they called Policeman Ryan of the Alexander avenue station.

Ryan entered the chimney through a hole in the bottom, where the boilers will be affixed eventually, and found Hogan unconscious and crushed and bleeding. Dr. Mooney of the Lincoln hospital found Hogan was dead when he arrived.

Hogan was married and had three children. He lived at 508 Robbins avenue, the Bronx.
